The following is His Swedish Majesty's SPEECH, on the diſſolution of the DYET, on the 9th of September, 1772.

"Noble, Honourable, Learned, Worthy and Good Swedes,

"AS I this day diſſolve the dyet, which diſſolution undoubtedly will be very remarkable in the univerſal hiſtory, I cannot diſmiſs you without renewing my gratitude, and thankfulneſs to heaven, who very viſibly ſhewed his particular grace, and ſaved this oppreſſed country, and its afflicted inhabitants, from their unſupportable yoke of ſlavery. This dyet began under the mourning of our moſt beloved King, mine and your moſt tender father; whatever was concluded upon in this dyet, was done in diſcord, partiality, hate, ſelfiſhneſs, and other foul and unchriſtian-like views. It ſeems as if providence itſelf would preſerve our poſterity from thoſe grievances which oppreſſed their anſcendors during a time of an hundred years; and ſuch a preſervation could not have been acquired, without expoſing the views and black intentions which guided the legiſlators, before the eyes of the public, which at laſt, inſpired by a ſpirit of true patriotiſm, nothing but a revolution could have been a dutiful conſequence of it. I repeat it, and ſay, nothing but a revolution, ſent by the hands of providence, could have deſtroyed the moſt wicked ſcheme which had been carried on theſe laſt hundred years, in a time when every navigable country has flouriſhed in proſperity, and our bleſſed country came day after day in greater diſtreſs, poverty, and in a moſt deplorable ſtate. Nothing but the preſent form of government could have reſtored the liberty, independence, freedom, and power of a mighty nation. In ſuch hopes I receive now the nation in its moſt corrupted ſtate, but in the future, liberty ſhall be re-eſtabliſhed; the laws confirmed; unity and concord promoted; and the national ſleepy, or rather dying ſpirit revived.

"You can very eaſily imagine in what a tender ſenſation I ſee you now aſſembled before my throne theſe few days, which have paſſed ſince this great and important change happened; gave me a moſt clear and moving example of your love and unlimited confidence you put in me. It is an infinite pleaſure to me, to ſee that virtue and greatneſs of ſoul, which honoured the time of your anceſtors, and lay hidden in your hearts, and guarded to a time of opportunity, now ſhining moſt glorious by your deeds! your manly courage, reſolution, ſteadineſs; your indefatigableneſs, devotion, attachment towards your King and Country; by which marks the ancient Swediſh Knights were known; how happy I am now to ſee all theſe virtues renewed, and ſet in motion in my reign.

"I ſeparate myſelf from you this day with great eaſineſs of mind, with a grateful and thankful heart, after your having ſupported me in the caſe of reſtoring the Swediſh ancient liberty, now founded upon unmoveable grounds and foundation, and to its preſervation you confirmed with me the new ſyſtem of government. Thus we depart from one another with the greateſt hopes that proſperity will crown the future, and we ourſelves (pleaſe God) will be perſonally witneſſes of the good and bleſſed fruits of it.

"I do aſſure you, that all my thoughts, my unbounded induſtry, ſhall be only to ſtrive to gain my ſubjects hearts, by their own welfare and proſperity; for which (you are witneſs) I have hazarded my crown, my dignity, nay, my life!

"Would you, in the future, remain in the ſame virtue you are now in, be aſſured that we very ſoon ſhall obtain the end of our wiſhes; namely, to ſee the Swediſh nation in a moſt flouriſhing ſtate!

"And ye, noble, honourable, learned, worthy and good Swedes, if you will remain united, mild, ſoft, and tender-hearted towards your brothers, faithful in ſupporting the welfare of the nation, peaceable and quiet, then I ſhall aſſemble you again, after ſix years, as it becomes a true, happy, united, free, and independent nation's repreſentatives.

"I wiſh you a happy return each to his ſeat and home, &c. &c. remaining with my Royal Grace, inclined and affected for you."

LONDON, SEPTEMBER 10.

"ON the 24th of laſt month there was a very violent ſtorm of thunder and lightning at Rome, which, though attended with little damage, was moſt wonderful in its conſequences. Being St. Bartholomew's day, there was high maſs at St. Peter's, and in the middle of the ſervice the lightning, preceded by a loud crash of thunder, pierced through the Cupulo of the Dome, and burnt off the right hand of the prieſt juſt as he had exalted the wafer; it then overturned and melted the Sacrament-Cup, deſtroyed the Hoſt with all the Apparatus of the Communion; and after having burnt to cinders all the Images of the Saints, ruſhed through the great gates of the Cathedral with a hollow, rumbling noiſe.

"The affrighted ſpectators, conſcious of their own Idolatry, and the propriety of the Divine Vengeance, cried out as it were with one voice, E viva il Proteſtantiſmo. This cry from within, like the deſcending of the cloven tongues, re-echoed from without, and the multitude joining in a general proceſſion, went into every Church and all the Chapels of the Convents, and pulled down moſt of the Images; they then went to the Papal Palace, where his Holineſs, attended by ſeveral of the Nobility, came out to meet them, and, contrary to their expectations, but to their univerſal ſatisfaction, expreſſed his pleaſure at their proceedings, and in the moſt public manner, renounced the errors of the Romiſh Church! Many of the Cardinals followed his example, and the populace were ſo exaſperated againſt thoſe that would not, that the Cardinals, Albertini, Boraccio, and Spinezza, were driven out of the city, together with the Chevalier de St. George and his Conſort, who narrowly eſcaped with their lives. When this intelligence left Rome, the whole country was in the utmoſt confuſion, and it was ſtrongly reported that couriers had been diſpatched to the Kings of Great-Britain and Pruſſia to requeſt their protection.---Thus it has pleaſed Heaven to ſtrike at the root of a religion founded upon ignorance, impoſition and bloodſhed, and to perform in one day what the combined powers of the reformed Church could not have effected in ages."

Extract of a letter from Rome, September 3.

"Since the late affair happened in the Church of St. Peter's, the Pope, as well as many of the Cardinals, are convinced of their errors in regard of Catholicity, intend therefore an intire reformation in religion, yet have not ſettled nor fixed on any New form, on account of the many diviſions in the ſacred College. The Cardinals, Albani, Seballoni, York, Corſini, and the General of the Jeſuits, together with the whole Order, are reſolved to continue firm in the old way; while ſome propoſe to have the doctrine of Luther introduced, others that of Calvin, and a few that of the Church of England; but the Pope, with a great Majority as well of the Laity as Clergy, are for the pure Goſpel as expounded by the Succeſſors of the late Mr. Whitefield, in order to obtain the new birth. Expreſſes are daily paſſing between this Court and thoſe of London and Berlin, as all the Catholic Princes are mightily averſe to this change in religion. Rome ſwarms at preſent with Preachers from all Sectaries in Chriſtendom, who have free toleration to propagate their doctrine let it be ever ſo abſurd; ſo that it runs down the old form which has been uſed heretofore ſince the Apoſtle's time; but there ſeems none to make more Proſelytes than the Methodiſts and Quakers, as their Preachers are men of profound learning and great abilities. I had like to have forgot acquainting you that the Pope appears in a lay dreſs with bag and ſword. He danced the 29th ult. at a ſplendid ball given at the Vatican with the Princeſs of Monaco, and has thrown off all that auſterity which was uſual to the Popes. The Chevalier de St. George and his Princeſs are baniſhed Rome for not conforming to the new change in religion, but continue firm to the old way, which loſt his grandfather England, and himſelf his eſtate in the compaſs of Rome. Where they are gone to, or what is become of them, nobody knows. In my next I'll let you know more of this wonderful change."

LONDON, NOVEMBER 10.

Extract of a letter from Cheſter, November 6.

"Yeſterday being the anniverſary commemoration of the Gun-powder plot, a great number of people of both ſexes, men, women, and children, went in the evening to ſee George William's puppet-ſhow, exhibited at a place called Eaton's Dancing-room, in Watergate-ſtreet: It unfortunately happened that a neighbouring Grocer had within a few days before lodged a quantity of gunpowder in a cellar under the ſhow-room, which proved the cauſe of the moſt dreadful cataſtrophe ever known in theſe parts: For, between eight and nine o'clock the powder took fire, (how, or by what accident, is not yet aſcertained) and blew up the floor, a room over it, and the roof; ſhattered the walls which were of ſtone and amazingly thick, and communicating with the ſcenes, cloaths, &c. inſtantly ſet the whole room in a blaze.

"Thus in a moment were the major part of the company buried under maſſy ruins, ſurrounded with flames, without any poſſibility of extricating themſelves, ſo that (beſides thoſe who were burnt to death, or killed upon the ſpot by the fall of heavy ſtones and timber) ſcarce one eſcaped without being either ſo miſerably ſcorched or cruſhed, that few can ſurvive.

"The exploſion was very great, and attended with a convulſion which was felt in the extremities of the city and ſuburbs. This alarming circumſtance incited many people with a curioſity of enquiring into the cauſe; which, when known, it is impoſſible to expreſs the dread which every one was poſſeſſed with for the ſafety of their family and friends. But when the dead and wounded were ſeen borne upon mens ſhoulders along the ſtreets, the ſcene became affectingly deplorable. Some fainting, others crying in the bittereſt anguiſh, diſtracted with the loſs of huſbands, wives, children, and relations; in ſhort, the general horror and confuſion on this melancholy occaſion is eaſier to be imagined than deſcribed.

"The number of the dead (among whom are Williams the ſhow-man, his wife, and child of about three or four years old, one Johnſon, an aſſiſtant of his, Johnſon's two boys, and ſeveral of William's relations) are computed at forty, and there are of the maimed, ſcorched, and wounded, about forty-two in the General Infirmary, whoſe recovery is much doubted. William's ſon, a pretty youth about ſixteen, was blown into Commonhall-lane, had one or both thighs broke, and was otherways terribly hurt; and ſeveral others were carried into the air, and dropped at a conſiderable diſtance, without receiving any material harm.

"Much damage is likewiſe done to the adjacent buildings; ſeveral houſes being overthrown, and windows ſhattered to pieces at an incredible diſtance by the exploſion."

DUBLIN, October 13. We hear from London, that a certain celebrated field preacher there, affects to ſtile himſelf the ſucceſſor of Whitefield; and whenever he ſpeaks of him in his ſermon, he ſtiles him his great predeceſſor. He is, however, ſuperior to any of his predeceſſors or cotemporaries, in adapting his addreſſes to his hearers to temporary circumſtances as they occur. A few days ſince he was preaching to a very large congregation on Hampſtead heath; in the middle of his diſcourſe the cloud gathered, and a very heavy ſhower ſucceeded; he was bare-headed, and ſeemed to pay no attention to the rain, till he ſaw many of his hearers beginning to depart. He then called out, "Brethren, brethren, how refreſhing is this ſhower that the Lord hath ſent—let me aſk you one queſtion—What do you think they would give in Hell for ſuch a ſhower?——I am certain you will not fly from the gift of God, that the very devils envy you the enjoyment of."——It had the deſired effect, and his hearers were ſoon pioufly wet to the ſkin.

An eminent phyſician lately paying a viſit of civility to a principal family at their country ſeat, was deſired by the lady of the houſe, ſome other perſons of faſhion then preſent, to go ſee the wife of a poor labourer in the village, who had been ſeveral hours in travail, and was ſo ill that her life was deſpaired of. The doctor obligingly complied with the requeſt, and ſeeing the caſe, preſently returned, and acquainted the ladies that the woman was extremely bad, and it was high time ſhe ſhould be delivered. One and all implored him to lend his aſſiſtance; but he peremptorily refuſed to ſtir without his uſual fee of five guineas. His demand ſurpriſed the fair ones, and taunts, ſcolding and frowns followed. They urged the impoſſibility of the labourer's being ever able to raiſe ſuch a ſum. No matter; the doctor remained obſtinate, and called for his horſes. The ladies finding him about to go, and ſtill deſirous to have the ſufferer relieved, muſtered up the mony among them and gave it to him. He returned with them to the poor object, performed the midwifery operation, waited until her ſpirits were a little revived, and then going to her bed ſide, preſented her with the gold, ſaying, that now ſhe had need of good nurſing, and cordial refreſhments, which the guineas would enable her to procure, and that it would have been a kind of cruelty in him to have left her in a more critically dangerous ſituation than he found her. The whole company ſaw the propriety of his conduct, and he took his leave amidſt a pæan of thanks and praiſes.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Captain-General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the ſaid Province, and Vice-Admiral of the ſame.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by the Continuation of the BOUNDARY-LINE between this Province and North-Carolina, which has lately been run in Purſuance of His MAJESTY'S INSTRUCTIONS to the Governors of both Provinces, ſeveral Plantations which have been ſettled by Virtue of Grants from the Governor of North-Carolina, fall within this Government: In Order to preſerve to the PROPRIETORS of ſuch GRANTS, the equitable Right they have to the Lands mentioned therein, I DO, by the Advice of His Majeſty's Council, iſſue this my Proclamation, hereby ſtrictly forbidding all the Deputy-Surveyors of this Province from laying any Warrant on Lands for which Grants have been obtained in North-Carolina: AND notifying to all Perſons poſſeſſed of, or intitled unto, ſuch Grants, that they may have Grants for the ſame from this Government, on their producing ſuch Grants, without their perſonal Attendance at Charles-Town, provided Application is made for the ſame within TWELVE MONTHS from the Date hereof.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Charles-Town, this Nineteenth Day of June, Anno Domini, 1772, and in the Twelfth Year of His Majeſty's Reign.

C. G. MONTAGU.

By His Excellency's Command,
THOMAS SKOTTOWE, Secretary.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

THOMAS POW, informs me of a dark bay MARE, about 12 hands high, 8 years old, branded on the near buttock and ſhoulder 21; had on a ſmall bell tied with ſtrings. The owner of ſaid ſtray, may prove their property before JOSEPH GOURLY.

ST. VINCENT, OCTOBER 3.

On Monday laſt as a party of the 32d regiment was marching to join the troops encamped near Niamboo river, they were attacked by the Caraibs from amongſt the buſhes. A great many of the ſavages were killed and wounded; of the King's troops a corporal and four men were killed and wounded; a negro who attended them was likewiſe killed. It ſeems that a Frenchman who was ſtanding upon a hill adjacent to the place where the engagement began, gave the Caraibs the ſignal when to fire. The villain is ſince apprehended, was ſent to Kingſtown, and put on board one of his Majeſty's ſhips of war. 'Tis to be hoped he will meet with ſuch puniſhment as is adequate to his deſerts.

Same day the Caraibs ſet fire and burnt down the plantation of Mr. Bruce at Wachilabeau, and killed ſome of his negroes.

One of the Caraibs that delivered himſelf up laſt week to his Excellency the General, was found in arms againſt his Majeſty; and on Wedneſday laſt he was hanged at Calliaqua.

Thurſday morning, about nine o'clock, the Caraibs burnt down the plantation of Monſieur Lacroix, and killed ſome of his Negroes: Immediately after that barbarous tranſaction, they came to the next eſtate (Monſieur Pradie's) with an intent to ſet it on fire; but by the vigilance of a detatchment of the Southern Regiment of Militia, under the command of Captain Glynn, they after reconnoitring the Militia (who were withing for an engagement) thought proper to take themſelves off to their lurking places of abode. Had it not been for the above detachment being poſted at Monſieur Pradie's, not only his but every eſtate in the Valley of Ouariwaroo would have been deſtroyed. In the afternoon a party of the troop, under the command of Colonel Harry Alexander, joining the foot commanded by Captain John Kennedy, and marched to Lacroix's eſtate; but none of the Savages appearing, they returned to their poſt.

Same day arrived at Calliaqua, from North America, a tranſport ſhip, with four companies of the 13th regiment, under the command of Major Alexander M'Kenzie. The reſt of the tranſports, with the other companies, are hourly expected.

'Tis reported that a plantation adjacent to Mr. Kair's is wholly burnt by the Caraibs.

Much damage has been done by the Savages to ſeveral plantations in the Iſland, but have not as yet been informed of the particulars.

This morning the artillery was ordered to proceed to Niamboo river, where the Chraibs have made a ſtrong entrenchment on the other ſide. The troops and artillery are expected to gain that important paſs on Wedneſday next.

His Excellency the General ordered a tranſport veſſel for Grenada, in order to bring here the remainder of the 70th regiment.

Several Caraibs, beſides ſome Frenchmen in their intereſt, have within theſe few days been taken priſoners by the different detachments of his Majeſty's troops and militia, and ſent on board one of his Majeſty's ſhips of war lying in Kingſtown-Bay.

Hawkins, Petrie, & Co.

Have received by the Britannia, Ball, and the London, Curling, from LONDON,

THE FOLLOWING GOODS, viz.

A LARGE value in plain, ſhot, ſtriped, clouded, figured, and brocaded lutеſtrings, mantuas, and ducapes, plain and flowered white ditto, black, crow-coloured, and gray changeable ditto, brown, blue, green, and crimſon damaſks, white, blue, purple, and pink coloured paduſoy, plain and figured modes, peelongs, and ſatins of all colours; a variety of plain, ſtriped, and flowered linens, 8-8th, 5-4th, 6-8th book ditto, ſome of each very fine, worked lawn aprons, ruffles and handkerchiefs, of all prices, French trimmings, ſhannell, black, blond, and thread laces, and edgings, dreſs caps, egrets, &c. chiefly for young ladies wear, gold and ſilver thread, purls, and ſpangles; a very neat aſſortment of ribbons and collars, of the neweſt faſhion; a freſh ſupply of Iriſh linens, white Ruſſia ſheetings, printed calicoes and cottons, furniture ditto, with trimmings, winter hoſiery, bombaſines, fine and coarſe cutlery, &c. a few Bath ſtoves, very handſome japanned tea tables, and a general aſſortment of FAMILY MEDICINES; a few hogſheads and quarter-caſks of good Jamaica rum, to be ſold cheap.----Beſides the RIBBONS abovementioned, they have a conſignment of Five Hundred Pounds ſterling value, of that article, to be ſold by the quantity, at Eight for One, on the maker's coſt, and Seven and a Half for One, if the amount of One Hundred Pounds ſterling is taken, which is much cheaper than the general coſt in London.

☞ WE having been very often told, that it is reported, and generally believed, that we will not ſupply any perſon whatever on the uſual terms of annual payment, think it neceſſary to declare, that the report is not true; that we never refuſed any of good circumſtances, and that we ſhall gladly ſupply ſuch on the loweſt terms, which it is in our power to do, as we have our goods directly from the tradeſmen, and keep one of the largeſt aſſortments in the province.
